

LATTICE

Linking all Types of Teachers to International Cross-Cultural Education

2016-2017 LATTICE Monthly Session "The State of Democracy in the World Today"

September 22, 2016 (Session 12:00-04:00 pm)

The Spartan Village Community Center

"The State of Democracy in the World Today"

Naming tradition

LATTICE norms, vision, and mission

American Electoral College: Renee Sarafin (Waverly High School Teacher)

Table Discussion

The State of Democracy in Eurasia: Dr. Norm Graham (Professor of International Relations at James Madison College)

Announcements

Attendance : 40
K-12 Educators : 14
Students : 16
Visiting Scholars : 2
Faculty/staff : 6
Community/Guests: 2

Testimonies

I made a great connection for potential speakers/help with globally themed lessons. Looking at the challenge book list and seeing if I could use it.

Learning more about Electoral College in an easy to understand way, Now I can explain it to others more clearly Indonesia trips details- exiting.

I personally learned about the Electoral College Superb organization and quality presentations.

Excellent conversation about democracy in the different countries represented at my table.

I learned the kind of democracy in Russia.

