Session Testimonials

I learned that the best information about a country comes not out of a book but from a person who actually lived there.

I didn't realize there would be an upside to the dollar being worth less. It helped to be reminded to have a broader perspective; in a year, things will not be the same as they are today.

I felt time flew away which means the sessions were really interesting. I enjoyed drawing LATTICE mission statement and group discussion.

My favorite part was the final presentations by internationals about their countries. I will use that in my classroom tomorrow!
